Your Support Matters

Founded in 1989 by Edsel Redden, Putnam County Extension Agent for the University of Florida's Institute of Food and Agricultural Science, FISH faithfully serves the Haitian communities of Gressier (just five miles from the quake's epicenter), Jeremie, and most recently, Boucan Carre.

For more than 20 years, FISH has helped Haitian communities develop local, sustainable methods to feed their populations. Through a combination of direct feeding programs, cooperative agriculture, micro-industry, education and extension agent support, FISH helps Haitians help themselves one village at a time.
